"German Syrup"

Here is something from Mr. Frank A. Hale, proprietor of the De Witt Hotel, Brunswick, Me. Hotel men meet the world as it comes and goes, and are not slow in sizing people and things up for what they are worth. He says that he has lost a father and several brothers and sisters from Pulmonary Consumption, and is himself frequently troubled with colds, and he often coughs enough to make him sick at his stomach. Whenever he has taken a cold of this kind he uses Boschee's German Syrup, and it cures him every time. Here is a man who knows the full danger of lung troubles, and would therefore be most particular as to the medicine he used. What is his opinion? Listen! "I use nothing but Boschee's German Syrup, and have advised, I presume, more than a hundred different persons to take it. They agree with me that it is the best cough syrup in the market."

SOLDIERING IN HAYTI.

HUNGRY PRIVATES SUPPORT THEMSELVES BY BEGGING.

Queer Way the Haytian Authorities Have of Taking Care of Their Convicts and Warriors—They Travel in Pairs and Beg in the Streets Day by Day.

Philip McDowell is an old and well known New Yorker. He was a volunteer fireman once, and all old New Yorkers know what that means. Of late years Mr. McDowell has traveled extensively abroad. He visited Hayti. A day or two ago a reporter asked him what was the most striking thing he saw in the black republic.

"I saw many strange things in Hayti, but the strangest of all was the way the soldiers and prisoners are transformed into beggars and are forced to live on charity. When a prisoner is sentenced to do time there he doesn't have a uniform, he learns no trade and he doesn't get anything to eat from the government. He is allowed to beg, though, for money and grub, and if he won't beg—well, he can starve.

"This begging is a funny kind of business. Take the prison at Jacmel, for instance. Well, every morning they fire the prisoners out to pick up whatever they can get, and each fellow has a soldier along with him to see that he doesn't run away. The two beg together all day and whack up in the evening. Then the soldier brings back his prisoner to jail and goes up to the fort to show that he has his musket all right, and hasn't sold it for drinks or a square meal during the day."

SOLDIERS GET NO PAY.

"But don't the Haytian soldiers get pay?"
"No, they don't. Any money there is in the army goes to the generals, and of them there are enough to command the combined armies of Europe and America. Once in a long while the Haytian soldier gets a dollar, which is worth about seventy cents in our money, but he and the prisoners live by begging. They go in twos from house to house and from store to store. Sometimes they have a good day and make a dollar and sometimes they don't make fifty cents, but whatever it is they must live on it.

"The soldier himself is a scarecrow. He has never been drilled, has no uniform to speak of, and if he hadn't a musket to carry around with him you couldn't tell him from the prisoner he is taking care of. You recollect the old Long Toms we had in our army before the war? Well, that's the kind the Haytian soldiers carry. They are all old cap and ball concerns, as like as not to go off at the wrong end.

"Take a soldier, a sailor or a fireman with us, and they all have a pride in keeping all their tools neat and clean; but military pride isn't in the game that the Haytian soldier plays. When he gets home after a day's begging he pitches his old musket into a corner just as a laborer in the street cleaning department gets rid of his shovel. It may be rusty and honeycombed, but as long as he can show up with it at the fort and satisfies the government that it hasn't gone to the junk shop he's happy."

DEATH OF NO ACCOUNT.

"The soldiers and the prisoners must be pretty good chums?"
"Well, that's very much as you take it. It's a common sight to see the guard and the prisoner reeling home together if they've made out well.

"I suppose you'd imagine that prisoners would often get away with these kind of guardians, but they don't. Whenever the soldier takes it into his head that the prisoner is going to escape he just shoots him dead, and that's all there is to it. No coroner comes around and post mortems are unknown. Why, I was walking one day with a friend on one of the chief streets of Jacmel.

"Right in front of us was a drunken soldier and a drunken prisoner. 'Now,' said my friend, 'you watch that fellow and see if he doesn't take it into his head that his prisoner is going to escape, and if he does he will shoot him.' Sure enough, a minute or two after the drunken prisoner staggered into the middle of the street, and the equally drunken soldier up with his Long Tom and shoots him dead.

"Things are not quite as bad at Port-au-Prince as they are at Jacmel and the smaller towns on the island, but the difference is not worth talking of. Hayti collects plenty of money in duties, but it is all grabbed by a few men, while the mass of the people are left to get on as best they can, and are forced to support out of their pockets as objects of charity soldiers and convicts."—New York Recorder.

Saving a Sparrow.

An authentic incident in the career of General Robert E. Lee is told as an evidence of his sweetness of disposition and natural kindness. One day he was inspecting the batteries over the lines below the city of Richmond, and the soldiers had gathered in a group to welcome him. This action drew upon them the fire of the Union guns. The general faced about and advised the men to go under shelter. But he did not do this himself. Walking on, although in apparent danger, he picked up and replaced an unfledged sparrow which had fallen from its nest near by. The act was instinctive, but perhaps indicates a really higher endowment than ability to conduct notable campaigns.—Youth's Companion.

SENATOR STEWART ON THE OHIO SILVER PLANK.

The administration newspapers of Nevada, which have expressed an opinion of the financial plank of the Ohio Democratic platform, admitted that they did not understand it, or asserted that they did not favor free coinage. As it requires some intelligence to comprehend the meaning of the plainest language, and intellect is not essential in conducting an administration organ, it is but charitable to concede that they know no better and are not wilfully attempting to deceive their readers by what they admit or assert.

The Senators from Nevada, who are battling with the mono-metalists, have the well-earned reputation, not only in the United States, but in Europe, of thoroughly understanding the silver question and what party platforms say on the subject, but unlike the organs, they do not attempt to uphold the course of the administration, not only on the silver question, but on other matters of national importance. In a letter to the New York Telegram, printed in this issue of the JOURNAL, Senator Stewart quotes the plank of the Ohio Democratic platform, which the Gazette and other Harrison papers say does not favor free coinage, and says:

"It is an unequivocal declaration in favor of restoring silver to the place it occupied as money before clandestine and revolutionary legislation robbed the people of the civilized world of more than one-half of the precious metal for use as money."

Senator Jones of this State, Teller and Wolcott of Colorado, Morgan of Alabama, Vest and Bland of Missouri, and every champion of the silver cause in and out of Congress express the same opinion of that plank, yet the "shining lights" of the administration newspapers of Nevada tell their readers that it does not favor free coinage.

The absolute necessity for more money has been clearly established in his unanswerable arguments with the gold trust by Senator Stewart. He has demonstrated beyond doubt or question that free coinage is the only available remedy for the present general business depression, and has unequivocally declared that he will not uphold either politician or party that opposes it, and every citizen of Nevada who places the prosperity of the State above the success of party should echo his sentiments.

SAANFORD NOT A CANDIDATE.

Senator Stanford of California, in reply to a letter which he received from Colonel J. R. Rickey of St. Louis, says it seems to him that the People's party are making a mistake in inserting so many questions in their platform. People may agree upon one or two great issues and differ upon others not so essential. The money plank of the Cincinnati platform might be satisfactory to people who might differ on the railroad plank. The latter the Senator considers a momentous question. He can readily appreciate that the consolidation of railroads under one management would render their operation less expensive. The burden of transportation ultimately falls upon the producer, and it is plain that if the Government could substitute, say two per cent. bonds in exchange for the existing indebtedness of the railroad companies, the benefit to the patrons of the roads would be the difference between the two per cent. and six per cent. interest generally borne by railroad bonds. Again, if the Government was content to operate the railroads without profit, the amount now paid stockholders in dividends would be saved to the patrons of the roads. So far, he believes, Government control of railroads has not been a success anywhere, and a great many people would hesitate to favor it on account of the vast political influence it would give an administration desiring to perpetuate its power.

He says he has received many letters approving his land bill, and some suggesting his name as a Presidential candidate. This caused him to reflect upon the possibility of a nomination, and he has made up his mind voluntarily not to be a candidate, and much less to seek a nomination.

The Gazette is showing that very few of the men whom it help elect to State office had more than an office-holding interest in the State, as they left Nevada when their terms expired. The Gazette should learn not to support carpet-baggers, who are Republicans for revenue only, for State offices.

The English Liberals have achieved a decisive victory in Cambridgeshire, where Brand received a majority of 260 over Duncan, Conservative. At the last preceding election the Conservative candidate had a majority of 1,087.

The Superintendent of Immigration has decided that the St. Louis Stamping Company can import skilled labor for their tin plate mill.

Astronomers Fighting Fire at the Lick Observatory.

SAN JOSE, July 24.—The great mountain fire that has been raging near the Lick Observatory has been materially checked, and at 10 o'clock to-night no further danger to the observatory or environs is apprehended. The large force of fire fighters who have been working with almost superhuman efforts succeeded by digging a ditch around the east line to change its course. The fire is now running towards Isabella Creek. The men to-night have ceased fighting it, but are watching it to prevent its crossing the creek. It may gain ground sufficiently, to reach San Antonio Valley. Last night the fire was so great that the whole country back of the observatory was a blaze of light, making it almost possible to read a newspaper, even at Smith's Creek. The heat was intense. The astronomers were fighting fire like demons. Much anxiety was felt about the delicate astronomical instruments on account of the heat, but it is learned to-night that they were unharmed.

It is impossible to accurately estimate what the total loss will be. About 3,000 acres have been devastated. Robert Morrow of San Francisco had about 2,500 acres swept over, which includes a loss of much valuable timber, including about 1,000 cords of wood belonging to the observatory. No buildings, with the exception of a barn belonging to Humbert Brothers of San Jose and a few deserted shanties, have been burned.

A Supposed Religious Sacrifice.

ADRIANOPLE, July 24.—Great excitement prevails here over tragic events growing out of an accusation that Jewish butchers killed a Greek child as a sacrifice. The Governor of Roumelia has proclaimed the district under military law, fearing that otherwise the inhabitants would rise against the Jews. It is alleged that the murder occurred at the village of Mustapha Pasha, about twenty miles from this city. The corpse of a Greek girl, eight years of age, was found in the river and the doctors declared that she had not been drowned but strangled and thrown into the water. All the butchers in the place were Spanish Hebrews, except one Greek named Stefanos, who swore that the girl had been strangled in the manner of Jewish blood offerings, and that the murder was undoubtedly a religious one. In the midst of the excitement, Stefanos suddenly disappeared and later his corpse was found in a sack on the bank of the river, the body being covered with stabs. Suspicion fell upon the men whom Stefanos had accused, and five of the Spanish butchers and two of their apprentices were arrested. One apprentice had named Gianni, confessed that the five prisoners had murdered Stefanos and paid him (Gianni) to carry the body in a sack to the river. The mystery of the girl's death is yet unsolved.

The Employees Want Their Pay.

ALBANY, July 21.—Rumors have been rife for several days of a threatened strike on the Oregon Pacific Railroad. The employees have not received their salaries for six months. The best of feeling has always prevailed between the company and the employees, however, and the men held a meeting and refused to strike. To-day a committee of six representative employees of the entire road waited upon Manager Wm. M. Hoag at Carverville and urged the company to provide means to pay the employees. The company's officers assured the men that they would use every endeavor to pay them by August 1st or 3d. The amount due them is about $50,000. The committee returned to this city this evening. The employees are satisfied and work will go on as usual.

A Gas Explosion.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., July 24.—A terrific explosion of gas occurred here in Fred Schneider's tailoring establishment this afternoon. Houses over a large portion of the town being rocked and window panes broken in the vicinity. Three of Schneider's workmen, Alex Struss, C. H. Faber and C. W. Weller were badly hurt, the first fatally. The entire building was demolished and the $10,000 stock ruined. The adjacent house of McCain and Houston is also badly damaged.

Extreme Hot Weather in California.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 24.—This is the hottest day of the season, the mercury at 2 P. M. standing at 110. The weather is very sultry, with clouds and rainstorms in the mountains. Quite a heavy shower passed south of the city about 2 o'clock, accompanied by thunder. This is the hottest July for many years. The mercury has gone above a hundred at Riverside fourteen days out of twenty-three this month.

The Strike Declared Off.

PITTSBURGH, July 24.—The strike at the Allegheny City Bessemer Steel Works at Duquesne was officially declared off to-day by the local lodge Amalgamated Association, as the members have given up hopes of ever winning the strike. All the men are advised to endeavor to secure their former positions at once. Many of the strikers, however, will not be taken back.

Frightful Freaks of Lightning.

CARLEISLE, Pa., July 24.—This afternoon a fearful wind and thunder storm accompanied by lightning passed over Cumberland Valley, doing considerable damage to stock. During the progress of the storm a bolt of lightning struck a shoe factory here and played frightful freaks with the buildings and machinery. At the time there were 300 hands in the building, most of them women, and when the bolt descended the panic stricken crowd rushed for the door. Several young ladies were slightly shocked while three fell to the floor unconscious. It is thought Misses Spangler and Johnson are fatally injured, as up to this time they have not regained consciousness. Six other lady operatives are seriously injured.

The Anti-Luck Advocate wants to know what has become of all the jackrabbits that infested the country a few years ago. If the Advocate will wait a year or two it will again see jackrabbits as numerous as ever. Three times since the settlement of Nevada by the whites the central and eastern parts of the State have been overrun by the pest. The principal cause of their disappearance is the large grub worm developed from the egg of an insect deposited in the rabbit's back, which old hunters say kills them by thousands.

The changes in the time of arrival of passenger trains made by the new timetable on the Central Pacific Railroad at Reno are said to be as follows: No. 1, east bound, will arrive at 10:05 P. M.; No. 2, west bound, at 4:30 P. M.; No. 3, east bound, at 9:10 A. M.; No. 4, west bound, at 9:05 P. M. The only material difference is in the time of the last named train, which now arrives at 11:40 P. M.

The Monarch saloon is keeping up with the times, and hereafter will furnish customers with cool beer on draft for five cents a glass.

WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. "My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofula, a sore neck from the time she was 22 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLISLE, Nauright, N. J.

A FIENDISH DEED.

A Man Robbed, Benten and Left Naked On the Desert.

The Silver State publishes the following particulars of one of the most fiendish deeds in the annals of Nevada:

"Deputy Sheriff Nofsinger returned from Wadsworth yesterday, having in charge two prisoners named John Hayes and William —, who are accused of highway robbery. The crime was committed last Saturday, and the particulars, as near as can be ascertained, are as follows: The two men and another, whose name is not known, were put off the train at Mill City and started to walk to Humboldt House, the next station. About half way between the two places they ran across John Hall, a cook, and finding that he had some money, proceeded to relieve him of it. They beat him with an iron wrench until his body was covered with bruises, took every stitch of clothing he had, together with a silver watch and $23 in money, and left him to walk naked under a broiling sun to Humboldt House. When he arrived there the station employes and section hands fitted him out with clothing, and he went to Wadsworth. There he saw the tramps who had robbed him, and the two mentioned above were arrested, the third one escaping. When arrested, one of the men had on Hall's clothes. It seems that he took the clothes as his share of the booty, the other two dividing the money between them. They sold the watch to an Indian for $3. The Wadsworth officers notified Sheriff Fellows of the arrest, and Deputy Nofsinger went down after them and brought them back, together with Hall, who is held as complaining witness."

DEMAND FOR SILVER MONEY.

Senator Stewart Praises the Action of the Ohio Democrats.

Journal's Special Washington Correspondent.

The action of the Democratic Convention in Ohio in regard to the silver question was watched with unabated interest by politicians and friends of the white metal in New York. For some time previous to the assembling of the convention the New York press was teeming with editorials ridiculing the idea of the importance of the silver issue, and advising against the adoption of a platform in favor of free coinage. The outcome of the struggle is a great victory for the cause of silver, and no one appreciates it more than the Senators from Nevada. With a twinkle of delight in his eye Senator Stewart said that the plank in the platform of the Ohio Convention was

RIGHT TO THE POINT.

And was the strongest and clearest declaration in favor of silver that could be made.

The victory in Ohio is significant of what may be anticipated in the elections of nearly all the Western and Southern States. The people appear to be determined to try free coinage, and it seems useless for those who are opposed to it to thwart their wishes longer. The agitation of the silver question that is being carried on at this time in almost every part of the country is bearing fruit. While the Farmers' Alliance is keeping the subject to the front in the South and West, Senators Stewart and Jones are worrying the financiers and monometalists on Wall Street, and giving the people of the East by their discourses the opportunity of judging for themselves whether or not their condition will be improved by the use of silver as real money. So far it is an undisputed fact that the discussion in the Evening Telegram on silver, the advocates of free coinage have the better of the controversy.

The following is

SENATOR STEWART'S COMMENT ON THE SILVER PLANK

In the platform of the Democratic Convention of Ohio:

The plank in the Democratic platform of Ohio, adopted on July 15, is an unequivocal declaration in favor of restoring silver to the place it occupied as money before clandestine and revolutionary legislation robbed the people of the civilized world of more than one-half of the supply of the precious metals as money. That plank, which will be printed in all the languages of the civilized world, reads as follows:

We denounce the demonetization of silver in 1873 by the party then in power as an iniquitous alteration of the money standard in favor of creditors and against debtors, taxpayers and producers, and which by shutting off one of the sources of supply of primary money operates continually to increase the value of gold, depress prices, hamper industry and disarrange enterprise, and we demand the reinstatement of the constitutional standard of of both gold and silver, with the equal right to each of free and unlimited coinage.

DEMONETIZATION OF SILVER.

The only possible criticism which any honest and patriotic man can make of this bold and unequivocal declaration of principle is the implication that the party in power in 1873 is responsible for the demonetization of silver. It will not be denied that the rank and file of all political parties were ignorant of any intention to demonetize silver, and of the fact that the silver dollar had been omitted from the list of coins by the mint act of 1873 until several years after its passage, and until the falling price of silver, as compared with gold, led to an inquiry. It is equally certain that the leaders of both political parties, with but one known exception, were as ignorant as the masses of the people of the fact that silver was demonetized by that act.

Let those who doubt this read the denials of ex-Presidents Grant and Garfield, Senators Bofy, Conkling, Allison, Blaine, Voorhes, Beck, Hereford and How, and Representatives Holman, Cannon, Kelly and Burchard.

BOTH PARTIES ACCESSORY.

It must be admitted, however, that the gold advocates who robbed the people of the civilized world of one-half of their supply of money, have succeeded, since 1873, in making both parties accessory after the fact to the crime of the nineteenth century. The power of the gold trust, which monopolizes the money of the civilized world, has overawed and intimidated political conventions and greatly influenced or absolutely controlled every administration in power on both sides of the Atlantic since the conspiracy was formed to enhance the value of money by rejecting silver. All the sophistry and misrepresentations which the keen sense of the usurer and extortionist can invent, and the power of money control, have been used to beguile, deceive and mislead the people. Falling prices, stagnation and hard times have forced the industrious, honest and enterprising producers of wealth in this country, to examine the money question for themselves and to see through the dimmy gaze of sophistry with which the gold trust seeks to cover its naked schemes of robbery and oppression. The question is now clearly seen and understood.

STAMPED AS REAL MONEY.

For thousands of years previous to 1873 silver and gold enjoyed the sovereign right to be stamped as real money. Each metal was a money metal, because nothing was required to make it money but the stamp of the Government to designate its weight and fineness. While each metal enjoys

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

this privilege the value of each, according to the ratio established by law, was the same, because both were money and neither was preferred to the other. It was the crime of 1873 that depreciated silver and advanced gold by denying to silver the sovereign right to receive the stamp of the Government, and thereby took away the money demand for that metal which had from the dawn of history been an unlimited demand.

A REPEAL DEMANDED.

The friends of honest money now demand and insist that the legislation which was placed on the statute book in 1873, the first discovered by the people in 1876, denying to silver the right of coinage, shall be repealed, and the money of the Constitution restored.

The Republican party has unequivocally promised to comply with this demand. In its platform adopted in the National Convention at Chicago, in 1888, it declared that "the Republican party is in favor of the use of both gold and silver as money." This declaration of principle can only be carried into effect by free coinage of both. The use of either as a promise to pay in the other recognizes but one as money. Will it be contended that the millions of tons of paper manufactured in this country are used as money because the Government prints promises to pay in money on paper which form a large part of our circulating medium? Would paper be money if the Government did nothing more than stamp upon it its weight and fineness, without any promise of payment or redemption, or any declaration that the paper itself was money, to be paid or redeemed in money whenever required by the holder, is not the use of paper per se as money, why is the use of silver as a representative of gold, its value to depend upon the promise of redemption in gold, the use of silver as money?

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

That Republican platform declares that the "Republican party is in favor of the use of both gold and silver as money." How is gold used as money and how was silver used as money prior to the crime of 1873? No promise of payment or redemption was required to put either in circulation. The stamp of the Government designating its weight and fineness, was the only requisite. Neither could be used as money without such stamp. Both were used as money prior to 1873 by virtue of such stamp, and not otherwise.

After that time the United States refused to authorize the use of silver by stamping or coining as formerly. The refusal to coin silver to be used as money was the evil which called for the declaration in the platform. When the Convention declared that it favored the use of both gold and silver as money, will it be denied that the party promised to adopt the only method by which the two metals had been or could be used as money, namely, to stamp or coin both on equal terms and without discrimination against either? The contention that the purchase of silver bullion to be used as a circulating medium redeemable in gold, is a fulfillment of the promise of the Chicago Convention in 1888 to use silver itself as money, is a transparent subterfuge. If silver is to be used as a representative of money, its value as such to depend upon redemption in gold, why not use paper, which is just as good for that purpose and more convenient? There is now in the commercial world more silver coin than gold coin, but the trouble is that on the gold theory silver coin is not itself real money, but its value depends upon the promise of redemption in gold.

GOLD AND SILVER COIN.

At the time of the commission of the crime of 1873 statisticians estimate that there were $7,600,000,000 of gold and silver coin in the world, all of which was then real money. According to the report of the Director of the Mint there is now less than half that amount of gold coin, and this, on the gold theory, is all the real money there is now in the world. Every possible effort has been made by the producers of wealth to sustain the price of property and to resist stagnation, bankruptcy and ruin. But it is beginning to be understood that the reduction of the world's money to the limited supply of gold means disaster. The enormous increase in the purchasing power of gold, caused by the destruction of one-half of the real money of the world, has placed the destiny of the commercial world in the keeping of an oligarchy of gold monopolists, who are more cruel in their exactions than the worst form of despotism.

The issue between the producers and the absorbers of wealth is now plain. The Ohio platform, declaring for the free and unlimited coinage of silver, shows that the people can no longer be deceived by false promises or vague, unmeaning declarations of political managers working in the interest of the gold trust.

FREE COINAGE OF SILVER.

A bill for the free coinage of silver will, at the next session of Congress, pass both Houses by large majorities. The organs of the gold trust threaten the measure with a Presidential veto. It is their last hope. It is the only obstruction to the will of the people upon which they can now rely. The question of the free coinage of silver has been discussed in and out of Congress for the last fifteen years. No political convention of either party has dared to place itself in direct opposition to silver. Many have dodged or equivocated, but now the great majority of all the representative bodies of the people of the United States are insisting in unmistakable terms upon the restoration of silver.

Do the organs of the gold trust know that the veto power does not exist for the purpose of thwarting the will of the people fairly and fully expressed by their representatives in Congress after ample consideration and discussion throughout the country and in the halls of legislation? Do they not know that a veto power under such circumstances would be usurpation and in plain violation of the principles of free government and of the Constitution as construed by the framers and by the ablest and purest jurists and statesmen for more than a hundred years? Would they, if they could, induce the President of the United States to sacrifice himself and the party he represents for a temporary victory for the bondholders over the struggling masses? Do they think that the prolongation of the contest until the Presidential election of 1892, when defeat for them is inevitable, will compensate them for the sacrifices they will be compelled to make in the struggle? Do they suppose that the President of the United States, who has been elevated to the most important office in the civilized world by the suffrages of the people, will be willing to violate the spirit of the Constitution, sacrifice his reputation as a statesman and lose the respect of his constituents, to enable the rich to extort from the poor, until a successor to him is elected to aid in righting the wrong of 1873?

Frankfort's System of Banks.
Of all the schemes designed for small savings and to encourage the poor to lay by small sums the penny savings stamp system, established in 1882 at Frankfort-on-the-Main, is the most unique. Frankfort is distinguished among European cities by the large average wealth of its citizens, and by its exceptional prominence in all that pertains to banking and finance. Many great banking families had their origin in Frankfort, from which branches have been established at Paris, London, Vienna and New York.
There are today not less than 200 banking houses, public and private, in the city. It might naturally be expected, then, in view of these facts, that some original features in the line of savings banks should be found there.

The Frankfort Savings bank is a private corporation established in 1823, nearly seventy years ago, when Frankfort was a free city and independent of all state allegiance and control. It began with 291 depositors, with $8,934 marks to their credit. In 1889 there were 50,097 depositors, with an aggregate capital of $8,315,097 marks, the receipts and withdrawals that year being $3,19,270 and $1,51,003 marks respectively.

There are three departments connected with this institution. The Savings Deposit bank, which comprises a central office and two branches in different parts of the city; the Weekly Savings bank,
a separate bureau, under the same management, but differing from it in that it collects from each depositor a stated weekly deposit, and the Penny Savings institution, which is adapted to the methods of the humblest class of depositors, whose savings are limited to a few pennies per day or week.—New York Recorder.

A Machine That Makes and Cooks Sausages
One of the novelties at the St. Pancras exhibition in London, England, was a sausage machine, driven by electric motor. In conjunction with this machine it has been proposed to employ an electra heating attachment, whereby the savory dish can be delivered cooked and smoking hot to the purchaser. It begins to look as if the shrewd individual who conceived the idea of a universal pig utilizing machine, into which the animal could be put at one end, to emerge at the other as cured hams and blacking brushes, was no visionary, but only a prophet a little in advance of his times.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Masher Mashed.
"I want some nice little thing for my wife—something that'll please her," said Masham. "Perhaps you could suggest something."
"Yes," said the saleslady. "I think a telegram saying a house has fallen on you ought to please her."—New York Herald.

A Great Walker.
Henrick Ilsen is a methodical walker.
So fond is he of his daily walk that he takes it rain or shine, and a cotton umbrella which he always carries has become a part of his individuality. His favorite time for walking is an hour before twilight. He writes incessantly all day and adopts this method of resting his tired brain and body. His well knit, muscular frame attests his good health,
and he can stand any amount of literary work. It is said of Ilsen that he writes one year and walks the next.—Washington Star.

The rooms for the weekly meetings of the G. A. R. posts are arranged like the lodge rooms of the other benevolent orders. In a few instances the local post has become the owner of its own quarters, and has fitted them up with some approach to luxurious accommodations,
with library, billiard room, dining room, kitchen, sustained by rent derived from other portions of the edifice.

It has been observed that when liquid carbonic acid is allowed to escape into a stout canvas bag in the dark, and by its expansion to freeze into a snowy mass,
the effect is accompanied by a pale,
greenish violet light and electric sparks.
